[redacted]
Threat Against Congressman
Fortney Stark
Congressional Assassination Statute

b6
b7C

On June 15, 1983, [redacted] to Congressman Fortney Stark was interviewed at the Congressman's District Office, 22300 Foothill Boulevard, Hayward, California, telephone number [redacted]. The interview concerned the appearance of one [redacted] at the Congressman's District Office. [redacted] while at this office made veiled threats against unnamed Government officials.

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated that [redacted] first appeared at District Office on April 22, 1983. [redacted] said that [redacted] complained about a problem he was having with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). As he explained his problem he grew more and more intense, and angry. [redacted] stated that [redacted] stated that he did not like our Government and that our Government was going to pot, and that other forms of Government might work better.
He also told [redacted] "I am a moral person". [redacted] stated that there was nothing she could do until she investigated [redacted] tax problem with the IRS.

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated that on April 25, 1983, she had some questions she had to ask [redacted] so she telephoned him at home (home telephone [redacted]). [redacted] stated that during this conversation, [redacted] was very cooperative, made no threats and gave all the necessary information to [redacted].

ENCLOSURE

[ ] stated that she next contacted [ ] on May 9, 1983, when he called from his work (telephone number [ ])

[ ] stated that [ ] told her that the judicial process was not available to him and he wanted access to the courts without an attorney. [ ] went on to state that [ ] said that he was [ ] and can design things. [ ] stated that she quoted [ ] saying that, "he was a mad scientist and can do things these guys can't imagine."

b6

[ ] stated that [ ] said that he wanted to know two things; 1) what was Congressman Stark going to do about this problem, that is his problem about his access to the judicial process not being available to him and 2) what was Congressman Stark going to do about what's going on in this Country?

[ ] stated that he was very upset and hostile. [ ] went on to say that after he mentioned that he was a mad scientist she told him that she took this as a threat and he stated, "yes I want this measures corrected and that he wanted Stark to initiate legislation that would assure his constitutional rights, and access to the courts."

b6

[ ] stated that it sounded to her that if Congressman Stark did not introduce legislation to correct what [ ] thought were his two major problems that [ ] previous statements could be construed as a veiled threat against Congressman Stark.

b6

[ ] stated that on May 20, 1983, she forwarded a letter to [ ] after she had researched the problem with the IRS. In part this letter stated that in response to his inquiry about his appeal rights to the IRS decision she had mailed him under separate the following items;

1) rules of the District Court and 2) instructions to the U.S. Claims Court, both courts have an avenue of appeal. She went on to state in the letter that she could understand his frustration with the system but she must tell him that a major revision in the appeals process within the next few years is unlikely. [ ] stated that since the May 20, 1983, letter she has not heard any further from [ ]

b6
b7C

On June 13, 1983, Agent [redacted] of the U.S. Secret Service, San Francisco, California, was notified of the pertinent facts regarding [redacted] visit to Congressman's Stark's Office.

b6
b7C

On June 15, 1983, Captain [redacted] Hayward Police Department (HPD), Hayward, California, was notified of all the pertinent facts regarding [redacted] visit to Congressman Fortney Stark's District Office in Hayward.

On June 20, 1983, Inspector [redacted] IRS, [redacted] was contacted regarding [redacted] visit to Congressman Stark's office. [redacted] stated that the IRS has actively investigated to a certain degree the activities of [redacted] stated that [redacted] had made three (3) specific threats to IRS personnel, two by telephone and one by mail. All three threats were against IRS personnel in Washington, D.C. [redacted] stated that the scenario was along the same lines as what happen at Stark's office, and that they were vail threats. [redacted] also stated that there would be most likely a technical violation of IRS statute and that he was considering interviewing [redacted] and telling him to stop his actions. [redacted] went on to state that [redacted] does not fit the profile of a protestor and it seems that [redacted] is just angry at the system regarding his specific problem.

On a regular basis, Special Agent (SA) [redacted] [redacted] of the Hayward Resident Agency (HRA) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) has been in contact with [redacted] [redacted] of Congressman Fortney Stark's office in Hayward, California and has been kept abreast of the activities of [redacted] as they pertain to possible threats against the Congressman.

On October 3, 1983, AUSA [redacted] San Francisco, California was contacted and advised of the details in this matter. After reviewing the facts in this matter, it was AUSA [redacted] opinion that [redacted]

On October 3, 1983, Inspector [redacted]
Internal Revenue Service (IRS), Internal Security Division, made contact with the FBI. [redacted] advised that [redacted] had made specific threats against IRS personnel and that [redacted] had filed income taxes "under protest" and that he has a long standing feud with the IRS. [redacted] further stated that the IRS is investigating [redacted] under Title 26, Section 7212 (a) which prohibits the making of threats or intimidating IRS personnel in the performance of their duties. [redacted] said these threats against IRS personnel revolve around several telephone conversations with IRS revenue officials in which [redacted] threatened them if they attempted to collect certain taxes. [redacted] was unaware of any specific threats against the Congressman.

[REDACTED]
THREATS AGAINST CONGRESSMAN
FORTNEY STARK

b6
b7C

On a regular basis, Special Agent (SA) [REDACTED] of the Hayward RA of the FBI has been in contact with [REDACTED] of Congressman Fortney Stark's office in Hayward, California.

On 11/30/83, [REDACTED] advised that the last contact she had with [REDACTED] was on 9/21/83, information contained in that conversation has been previously reported.

b6
b7C

On 11/30/83, Inspector [REDACTED] IRS, Internal Security Division, phone [REDACTED] was contacted. He advised that he briefly interviewed [REDACTED] and determined that [REDACTED] hostility focused altogether against the IRS. [REDACTED] stated he warned [REDACTED] to cease making threats against IRS personnel and if these threats continued the IRS would pursue avenues of prosecution. [REDACTED] told [REDACTED] that the IRS was [REDACTED] and that it was [REDACTED] right of free speech to voice his complaints.

b6
b7C
b7E

[REDACTED] said conversation could not resolve anything therefore the interview was concluded.

b6
b7C

The IRS case is closed until [REDACTED] again begins to make threats against IRS personnel.

On November 30, 1983, AUSA [REDACTED] was recontacted and was advised that the facts of this matter had not changed since October 3, 1983. AUSA [REDACTED] again restated his opinion that [REDACTED]

On 10/5/88, [redacted] staff person, Office of Congressman PETE STARK, 32300 Foothill Blvd., Hayward, California, made telephonic contact with the Hayward RA to advise that her office had been receiving nuisance phone calls from [redacted]

b6

[redacted] She advised that [redacted] is a "regular" telephone caller to the office and at times he has personally visited the office. She advised that in the last telephone conversation, 10/3/88, [redacted] became agitated and began to talk about having guns. She advised that her office staff was most upset.

On 10/7/88, [redacted] advised that she was the person who last talked with [redacted] on the telephone. She stated that on 10/3/88, between 2:00 and 3:00 P.M., she talked with [redacted] on the telephone. She stated that [redacted] has come to know her during other calls and visits. She advised that initially [redacted] expressed a complaint about not receiving Social Security benefits he thought himself entitled to but when he was denied permission to present himself at the office to make a tape recording of his complaint he became angry. [redacted] stated he commented that the Oakland Police had been to his place and taken away three of his guns but he had just purchased a new shotgun for protection. He then became more frustrated and began shouting that PETE STARK was doing nothing about the drug problem in Oakland. He told [redacted] that she needed his protection and that she was his only friend. He then said that if PETE STARK didn't deal with the drug problem then there was going to be hell to pay and that he knew how to deal it out.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of transcription 1/6/891

[redacted] date of birth [redacted]
[redacted] residence of [redacted] [redacted] telephone [redacted] was contacted concerning various telephone calls he has made to the Hayward office of Congressman PETE STARK.

b6
b7C

[redacted] immediately stated that his life was in danger and that he has been threatened by the Mafia. He stated that his telephone is being tapped and his mail is being tampered with. [redacted] further advised that he is under constant harassment from the police and they have threatened him on numerous occasions. He stated that an unknown group of doctors and lawyers have conspired to have him killed by the Mafia. He further stated "what they did to Kennedy is the same thing they're doing to me".

b6
b7C

[redacted] advised that he has forwarded information concerning the threats against his life to the State Attorney General Office in San Francisco. He advised that they will not help him.

[redacted] stated that he is receiving disability benefits from the Social Security Administration. According to [redacted] he receives these benefits because a doctor prescribed glasses that were too strong and they destroyed his eyesight.

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated that in September, 1988, he was hospitalized at Highland Hospital for psychiatric examination.
After this was performed he was admitted to Gladman Hospital for a four day evaluation.

[redacted] was cautioned that he may be violating certain laws if he threatened anyone, including threatening statements made on the telephone. This infuriated [redacted] and he stated that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was part of the conspiracy as was everyone else. He became increasingly agitated and at this point the discussion with him was concluded.

Dear Congressman Stark:

I am writing in further response to your April 13th inquiry to the Department of Justice on behalf of a constituent who is concerned about proposed legislation involving communications systems, its cost to the taxpayers, and citizen rights in such matters.

I am enclosing for you and your constituent a copy of Director Sessions' article entitled "Keeping an Ear on Crime," which appeared in the March 27, 1992, edition of The New York Times. It should clarify the FBI's position in this important matter, and I hope will answer any other questions you or your constituent may have.

Dear Mr. McNulty:

I have recently received a letter from a constituent of mine that outlines a policy the Justice Department may be considering. It is reported that this policy would subsidize surveillance modernizations through telephone rate increases.

I am writing to make sure that the newspaper article has properly reported the situation. Would telephone rate increases finance this surveillance modernization? Or, do modernizations, upgrades and technological improvements already have their place in the FBI budget?

I have enclosed a copy of the constituent's letter. I would greatly appreciate it if I could get your opinion on this matter.

Sincerely,

Pete Stark

FBI wants easier phone bugging

Ratepayers would subsidize tap technology

By James Rowley
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The Bush administration wants you to pay a little more for telephone service to make it easier for the FBI or local police to listen in on the conversations of suspected criminals.

The Justice Department is circulating a proposal in Congress that would force telephone companies to install state-of-the-art technology to accommodate official wiretaps. And it would authorize the Federal Communications Commission to grant telephone companies rate increases to defray the cost.

A copy of the draft legislation was obtained by Associated Press.

Attorney General William P. Barr discussed the proposal last week with Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, which oversees the FCC, according to congressional sources who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Discussions reported

Justice Department spokesman Paul McNulty refused to comment on the proposal.

The bill was drafted by the FBI and the Justice Department in response to dramatic changes in telephone technology that make it difficult for traditional wiretapping methods to pick up conversations between two parties on a telephone line.

The Justice Department's draft proposal states that the widespread use of digital transmission, fiber optics and other technologies "make it increasingly difficult for government agencies to implement lawful orders or authorizations to intercept communications in order to enforce the laws and protect the national security."

The FBI has already asked Congress for $26.6 million in its 1993 fiscal year budget to help finance a five-year research effort to help keep pace with the changes in telephone technology.

With the new technology that is being installed nationwide, police can no longer go to a telephone switching center and put wiretap equipments on a designated lines.

180 days to devise rules

The advent of so-called digital transmission means that conversations are broken into bits of information and sent over phone lines and put back together at the other end of the wire.

The bill would give the FCC 180 days to devise rules and standards for telephone companies to give law-enforcement agencies access to conversations for court-ordered wiretapping.

The attorney general would be empowered to require that part of the rulemaking proceedings would be closed to the public, to protect the security of eavesdropping techniques used by law enforcement.

Phone companies would have 180 days to make the necessary changes.

The bill would prohibit telephone companies and private exchanges from using equipment that doesn't comply with the new FCC technology standards.

It also would give the FCC the power to raise telephone rates under its jurisdiction to reimburse carriers.

Any one can be a 'suspected' criminal

No one would be immune

No one "body" or group should be able to raise our rates or taxes without a public vote.

No Way do I want this

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, DC 20515

December 12, 1990

Congressional Liaison FBI
J. Edgar Hoover Building
Washington, DC 20535

Dear Sirs:

I am forwarding the enclosed threatening letter, received in the Congressman's Washington office on December 12.

Mr. Stark was responsible for a budget change in the fall of 1989 that caused a company (which had operations in Cincinnati) to quit offering a particular type of End Stage Renal Disease service--which upset the patients using that service. There were threats of people coming to Washington and dying on the Capitol steps, etc. Nothing came of this, since the really sick patients were placed in appropriate settings, and the others went to settings that were less convenient, but much, much more cost effective for the taxpayer.

The person writing the letter would be referring to a patient at Home Intensive Care, Inc. The amount of anger over this issue is such that I personally would view this letter as serious.

Thank you for your review of the matter.

Sincerely,

b6

DEC 12 AM

MR STARKS , FORTNEY, PETE.

SINCE MY FIRST LETTER YOU HAVE DONE NOTHING TO RETURN
STAFF ASSISTED HOME HEMODIALYSIS TO KIDNEY PATIENTS WHICH YOU TOOK AWAY. I HAVE ALSO HEARD OF YOUR DINING AND WINING WITH KIDNEY DOCTORS AND TAKING THEIR BRIBES TO KEEP PATIENTS IN CLINICS INSTEAD OF HOME. MY MOTHER IS STILL UPSET AND SUFFERING.

YOUR TIME IS RUNNING OUT. YOU HAVE KICKED OUT THE
HOME HEMODIALYSIS AND NOW NOBODY IS LEFT TO HELP THEM.

I GUARANTEE YOU THAT UNLESS WITHIN THE NEXT YEAR OR TWO THIS KIND OF DIALYSIS IS GIVEN BACK TO ALL OR MOST KIDNEY
PATIENTS YOUR HEAD WILL BLOW AS WELL AS YOUR FAMILY MEMBERS WILL SUFFER PHYSICALLY AND MENTALLY AS WELL. I WILL SEND THE SURVIVORS A LETTER (OR PHONE CALL) TO EXPLAIN HOW YOU DID THIS TO THEM.

YOUR VERY CLOSE ASSOCIATES ARE ALSO GOING TO GET IT (ONE OR TWO OF THEM) BECAUSE THEY HELPED YOU IN THIS.

AT FIRST I THOUGHT OF USING MY HIGH POWERED HUNTING RIFLE
AND ZEISS SCOPE. BUT THEN I THOUGHT <sup>REMOTE</sup> A RADIOCONTROLLED
PLASTIC LOADED MODEL RACE CAR GUIDED UNDER YOUR CAR WILL BE MORE PAINFUL, YOU MAY SURVIVE IT CRIPPLED, MAY GET YOUR ASSISTANT ALSO AND SCARE AS A WARNING TO OTHER BASTARDS IN COVERS. HOW ABOUT THE SAME THING IN A RADIO CONTROLLED AIRPLANE? WHEN YOU LEAST EXPECT
IT?

THIS IS MY LAST LETTER. --- TIME IS RUNNING OUT ---

CONGRESSMAN <sup>FORTNEY</sup> Y. DE TARKS
U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON D.C. 20515

5TH DEC. 1990

MR STARKS, FORTNEY, PETE.

SINCE MY FIRST LETTER YOU HAVE DONE NOTHING TO RETURN
STAFF ASSISTED HOME HEMODIALYSIS TO KIDNEY PATIENTS WHICH YOU TOOK AWAY. I HAVE ALSO HEARD OF YOUR DINING AND WINING WITH KIDNEY DOCTORS AND TAKING THEIR PRIZES TO KEEP PATIENTS IN CLINICS INSTEAD OF HOME. MY MOTHER IS STILL UPSET AND SUFFERING.

YOUR TIME IS RUNNING OUT. YOU HAVE KICKED OUT THE
HOME HEMODIALYSIS AND NOW NOBODY IS LEFT TO HELP TAKE CARE.

I GUARANTEE YOU THAT UNLESS WITHIN THE NEXT YEAR OR TWO THIS KIND OF DIALYSIS IS GIVEN BACK TO ALL U.S.A. KIDNEY
PATIENTS YOUR HEAD WILL BLOW AS WELL AS YOUR FAMILY MEMBERS WILL SUFFER PHYSICALLY AND MENTALLY AS WELL. I WILL SEND THE
SURVIVORS A LETTER (OR PHONECALL) TO EXPLAIN HOW YOU DID THIS TO THEM.

YOUR MANY CLOSE ASSOCIATES ARE ALSO GOING TO GET IT (ONE OR TWO OF THEM) BECAUSE THEY HELPED YOU IN THIS.

AT FIRST I THOUGHT OF USING MY HIGH POWERED HUNTING RIFLE
AND ZEISS SCOPE. BUT THEN I THOUGHT A <sup>REMOTE</sup> RADIOCONTROLLED
PLASTIC LOADED MODEL RACE CAR GUIDED UNDER YOUR CAR
WILL BE MORE PAINFULL, YOU MAY SURVIVE IT CRIPPLED. MAY GET YOUR ASSISTANT ALSO AND SEVERE AS I. WARNING TO OTHER BASTARDS IN CONGRESS. HOW ABOUT THE SAME THING IN A RADIO CONTROLLED AIRPLANE? WHEN YOU LEAST EXPECT
IT?

THIS IS MY LAST LETTER. --- TIME IS RUNNING
OUT. ---

The date "DEC 12 1990" on Q2 was generated with a rubber stamp.

Specimen Q2 has a torn edge, which may be associated with material with a matching edge.

No indented writing or watermarks were found on specimens Q1 or Q2.

Specimens Q1 and Q2 have been searched through the Anonymous Letter File with negative results. Copies have been added to this file for future use.

You will be separately advised as to the results of the requested latent fingerprint examination and the disposition of Q1 and Q2.

FOURTNEY (PETE) STARK
U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Hayward, California - POSSIBLE VICTIM
10/11/84 - POSSIBLE CCSCAKA ?
OO: San Francisco.

On 10/12/84, [redacted]
for Congressman FOURTNEY "PETE" STARK, 22300 Foothill Boulevard, Hayward, California, advised that on that date one [redacted]
[redacted] had made a telephonic threat.

b6
b7C

[redacted] advised that [redacted] had been receiving Federal workman's compensation for an injury sustained on 11/25/80, and that on 7/14/84, his compensation funding was discontinued. [redacted] first contacted Congressman STARK'S Office in August, 1984, and explained that the Federal Workmen's Compensation Office had received information that [redacted] was able to work 30 to 40 hours a week at his own business. They advised him that if he were able to work, he would no longer receive total and complete compensation disability. Also, his activity in the new business along with claiming disability constituted fraud.

b6
b7C

[redacted] advised that Congressman STARK'S Office wrote a letter to the Department of Labor, Federal Workerman's Compensation Office and was given a reply as indicated above.
They were also advised that they had requested specific information concerning [redacted] business, but he had not replied. STARK'S Office sent a letter to [redacted] explaining the situation, and they could take no further action.

[redacted] advised that on 10/11/84, [redacted] called STARK'S Office and complained that he had not received a check in over four months, he was being evicted, and he was starving. He explained that he had sent the Federal Workermen's Compensation the information they needed, and he could not understand why they did not send him money. He then said, "Look, if it takes killing someone to get attention in this case, then I will." [redacted] went over the facts again to calm him down and assured him that they would check in his behalf with the Federal Workermen's Compensation Office and that he might also call Senator CRANSTON for assistance. He seemed to calm down and pleaded for their help.

Inquiry at the CALIFORNIA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES via a teletype indicated that [redacted] was issued [redacted] with an address of [redacted] effective 12/13/80. He is described as a male, DOB: [redacted], 5'11", 154 pounds, brown hair, and brown eyes.

A check of San Francisco FBI indices revealed case file [redacted] opened April, 1982, in which [redacted]

The Subject allegedly claimed 72 hours regular time and 16 hours over-time that he did not work. The USA declined prosecution in the matter.

b6

Synopsis: Assessment Purpose: To corroborate open-source reporting regarding possible ethical violations concerning Congressman Pete Stark and his relationship with the lobbying firm Capitol Hill Strategies.

Details: According to March 2010 open-source reporting by Roll Call, a review of Congressman Stark's financial disclosure forms revealed that he receives rental income from his property located at 316 2nd Street SE, Washington, DC. Open-source reporting indicates that this property was rented to Capitol Hill Strategies from approximately November 2006 to October 2007. Despite the Congressional Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, commonly referred to as the Ethics Committee, disapproving of the lease, Congressman Stark continued to rent the property to the lobbying firm during this time frame.

In September 2008, Congressman Stark sponsored a bill known as the Health e-Information Technology Act of 2008 (H.R. 6898). The bill included a provision that would provide grants to healthcare professionals to purchase qualifying healthcare information technology. If the bill passed it would have indirectly benefitted one of Capitol Hill Strategies' clients, AdvaMed, which in 2007 released a healthcare reform plan proposing that the government provide incentives to the healthcare industry for adopting electronic medical records technology.

This assessment seeks to corroborate the above-mentioned open-source reporting through the use of paid-for-service databases.

[redacted] is an individual who is well known to the staff of Congressman STARK, 22320 Foothill Blvd., Suite 200, Hayward, California. Association with [redacted] for any period of time would cause most normal individuals to consider the possibility that [redacted] was mentally unstable. In the past [redacted] has been infatuated with [redacted]. He would cast his attentions and affections upon the unwilling [redacted] until she made every effort to avoid [redacted]. [redacted] determined that [redacted] was in fact trying to keep [redacted] from him or that [redacted] was plotting the death of [redacted]. During the winter of 1990 - 1991 [redacted] quit her position and left California with her boyfriend. [redacted] inquired of the FBI as to the whereabouts of [redacted] as he was sure she had been done away with by [redacted] however, he seemed to accept the information that [redacted] had in fact left of her own free will and that she was living in another state.

b6
b7C

In April, 1991 [redacted] seemed to have lost his grasp of reality and he became obsessed with determining the whereabouts of [redacted]. His actions became exceptionally aggressive after seeing a television episode of Twin Peaks that he believed portrayed [redacted] being kidnapped and murdered by [redacted]. He also concluded that anyone who did not assist him in locating [redacted] was involved in the "conspiracy" to keep him from marrying [redacted]. He began to place strange telephone calls to various government agencies such as NASA Ames, Mountain View; the Capitol Police, Washington D.C.; the FBI, Hayward; the Hayward office of Congressman STARK; the Washington D.C. office of Congressman STARK; the Hayward, California Police Department; the Secret Service; various military installations; and the chambers of USDJ MARILYN PATEL. During some conversations [redacted] was content to leave messages on answering machines. Answering [redacted] from Judge PATEL and the Hayward RA have been [redacted].

ALLEGED THREAT AGAINST FORTNEY "PETE" STARK, CONGRESSMAN; INFORMATION CONCERNING

On Friday, 1/24/86, at approximately 8:20PM, SA [redacted] Night Supervisor, San Francisco Division, telephonically contacted SA [redacted] who had the emergency response duty for the Oakland Resident Agency and advised that SA [redacted] had taken a telephonic complaint from a white female who identified herself as [redacted] U. S. Congressman FORTNEY "PETE" STARK. [redacted] told SA [redacted] that her counter-part in Washington, D. C., [redacted] had been notified that an unidentified operator on the Congressional switchboard had been called by a male who said STARK "...would be 'hit' tomorrow in Alameda." SA [redacted] agreed that he would pass the information, limited as it was, to the Secret Service and Alameda, CA., Police Department.

b6
b7C

On 1/24/86, at approximately 8:24PM, SA [redacted] telephonically contacted [redacted] at telephone [redacted] [redacted] reiterated the story that [redacted] had telephonically contacted [redacted] and reported that an unidentified operator on the Congressional switchboard had telephonically contacted [redacted] and advised the operator had received a call threatening Congressman STARK in that the caller said STARK "...would be 'hit' tomorrow in Alameda." [redacted] noted that STARK was to speak on 1/25/86, from 2:30PM to 3:30PM, at a townhall-type meeting open to the public.

b6
b7C

On 1/25/86, SA [redacted] telephonically contacted Sgt. [redacted] and verified he had been notified that a threat had been received by an unidentified operator at the Capitol switchboard.

b6
b7C

On 1/25/86, at approximately 3:45PM, SA [redacted] was telephonically contacted by the duty agent who indicated Sgt. [redacted] had called to advise that one [redacted] had been taken into custody by officers of the Alameda, CA., Police Department for violation of California State Penal Code Sections 77 (Assault on an Elected Official) and 647(f) (Drunk in Public).

On 1/25/86, at approximately 4:35PM, SA [redacted] arrived at the Alameda, CA., Police Department to interview [redacted] Arresting officer [redacted] advised that he had attempted to interview [redacted] but that [redacted] had refused interview in the absence of his attorney.

89-6027-3

On 1/25/86, at 4:48PM, SA [ ] and Officer [ ] re-advised [ ] of his Constitutional rights as enumerated in form FD-395. In view of the fact that [ ] had previously asked to see his attorney before any questioning, SA [ ] specifically noted this and asked if [ ] would like to change his mind in regard his request to see his attorney. [ ] replied that he understood his rights and stated, "I now want to waive them." SA [ ] then read [ ] his rights as enumerated in form FD-395, which [ ] then signed at 4:50PM.

b6

[ ] provided the following information:

[ ] said he was born [ ] and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in the field of international relations. He advised he had been an aviator with the United States Navy for approximately 12 years from 1954 to 1965. He was dropped from the service in 1965 after being passed over for promotion on two occasions. He allowed that he had, and has, a drinking problem. He noted he had had "a couple of pops" on the morning of 1/25/86, before coming to Alameda to see Congressman STARK.

b6
b7C

In regard the alleged threat [ ] provided the following information:

b6
b7C

[ ] said that on the evening of 1/24/86, at approximately 7:30PM PST, he placed a call to the switchboard of the United States Capitol. He said he identified himself by name and asked to speak to Congressman STARK. The operator told him that the Congressman was not available. He asked to speak to one of the Congressman's staff and was told that was not possible. He then said, "Please get the Congressman a message. There are a lot of squirrels out in Oakland this weekend. There is a possibility the Congressman may be hit in Alameda tomorrow." [ ] advised he then asked the operator about the weather in the District and told her about the weather in the Bay Area. They said good night and the call was terminated.

b6
b7C

[ ] said he came to Congressman STARK's townhall meeting on 1/25/86, arriving at about 2:15PM in his car. He saw Congressman STARK near the meeting site and walked up to him. [ ] gave STARK a letter and said, "I'm the one that called you last night." STARK asked if he had meant to threaten him. [ ] expressed shock that his remark had been taken as a threat and apologized. STARK seemed to accept the apology and started to walk away. [ ] reached out to STARK to make sure the apology was accepted and was taken into custody by Officer [ ]

b6
b7C

Officer [ ] Alameda, CA., Police

b6
b7C

Department verified all of [ ] statements dealing with the events at the townhall meeting immediately before his arrest.

b6
b7C

[ ] advised he worked as an accountant from his home. He said he is married to [ ] who works [ ]. They reside at [ ] and have no telephone at the present time. he said he does not own any firearms. He said he had never been arrested but had been briefly hospitalized for psychiatric problems ten years ago and again overnight about a year ago. He admitted to being an alcoholic.

[ ] car was searched with his permission by officers of the Alameda, CA., Police Department. Nothing of evidentiary value was located.

b6
b7C

Officer [ ] and SA [ ] telephonically contacted Capitol switchboard operator [ ]. She verified [ ] account of the conversation almost word for word, including the fact that he identified himself by name and that they ended the conversation by discussing the weather. She said it was her opinion that [ ] did not intend to threaten Congressman STARK but only to warn him. She said she had advised [ ] of the conversation and had spelled the name of [ ] for [ ].

Officer [ ] and SA [ ] telephonically contacted [ ] and advised her of the results of the investigation. She advised she had obtained the information as related by operator [ ] but had given a garbled version of the incident to [ ] Congressman STARK [ ] in the Bay Area. [ ] was cautioned that in the future she should promptly contact the FBI office and police office nearest the Congressman's whereabouts at the time of the threat and that she should be more attentive to disseminate the information contained in the alleged threat, including the name of the person making the alleged threat.

b6
b7C

Officer [ ] and SA [ ] then drove to the residence of [ ], and interviewed [ ]. She verified all information provided by [ ] including the fact that they had been married for four years and that they owned no firearms. She advised her husband is not a violent man. She said he admires Congressman STARK greatly. She noted he is an alcoholic and had been drinking all night long before going to see STARK at the townhall meeting.

b6
b7C

In view of the above, Officer [ ] recommended to his duty sergeant, [ ] that [ ] not be charged with

b6
b7C

CA. P. C. Section 77 but should instead be released after serving four hours in custody upon arrest for CA. P. C. 647(f).

SA [ ] advised that there was not sufficient evidence to provide probable cause for any federal charge and that SA [ ] would obtain a formal declination of prosecution from the duty Assistant United States Attorney on Monday, 1/27/86.

b6
b7C

On 1/25/86, at approximately 7:30PM, SA [ ] telephonically contacted [ ] and apprised her of the results of the investigation. She apologized for the confusion and for essentially providing misleading information. She noted that she and [ ] are very loyal to Congressman STARK and had over-reacted. It was suggested that she reiterate to any party contacting her regarding any future threat, the substance of that threat so as to avoid future confusion.

b6
b7C

On 1/27/86, AUSA [ ] was apprised of the circumstances in regard the captioned matter; he declined federal prosecution.

b6
b7C

In view of the above, no further investigation appears warranted at the present time. Secret Service advised on 1/27/86, via contact with SA [ ]

It was subsequently determined that no booking photograph of [ ] was obtained.

b6
b7C

Subsequently, SA [ ] received a letter from Congressman Stark thanking the FBI and Alameda Police Department for there involvement in the captioned matter and apologizing for the errors by his staff leading to the above described investigation.

Protests Against War Nov. 14 in East Bay

Vietnam Moratorium organizers announced yesterday that they will hold a rally on the shores of Oakland's Lake Merritt next Friday and then march through the city, leafletting as they go, "to get Oakland all out" for the Nov. 15 march in San Francisco.

And at UC, next week will be devoted to noon rallies and to visiting classes to urge students and professors not to do "business as usual" on Friday.

Friday will be devoted to picketing, another noon rally and an afternoon march to Gallagher Hall, home of the University's ROTC.

The march will serve to bring the war home by pointing up the University's connections with the war machine, according to Byron Ackerman, Student Mobilization Committee spokesman.

Another Moratorium effort will be to leaflet tomorrow's Oregon State game at the Memorial Stadium here, Ackerman said.

The Oakland rally will be at noon at 14 Street and Lakeside Drive, near the Alameda County Courthouse. Numerous speakers are expected from various groups: the American Federation of Teachers, Anti-War GI's, the Berkeley Three, the Black Panthers, clergy, the Chicano Movement, the Oakland Black Caucus and local colleges.

At a press conference yesterday, a Pro-Moratorium statement was read for Banker Fortney H. "Pete" Stark, Contra County banker and unsuccessful candidate for the State Senate last year.

In his statement Starke said "The Nixon Administration has tried to lump those who protest the war in a single mold and cast them as irresponsible, even traitorous.

"I don't consider myself, or my family, or my friends, or others, who legitimately protest this war as irresponsible or traitorous.

"I am a banker who wants to end the war in Vietnam. After hearing Mr. Nixon's talk, I would still like to know how it is going to be done and when."

Also announced was a community dialogue planned at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific in Berkeley, on Friday, Nov. 14.

The community dialogue will feature services and discussions on such topics as chemical-biological warfare, ecology and the war, the strategy of the National Liberation Front and the history of the Movement.

Activities planned here next week are part of a nationwide Moratorium movement leading to mass marches in San Francisco and Washington, D.C., on Saturday, Nov. 15. If the war has not ended, further demonstrations are planned for three days in mid-December.

Moratorium Warmups

The Bay Area's demonstrations for peace were carried out in peaceful fashion yesterday, ending the warmup for today's Vietnam war moratorium march and rally in San Francisco.

As many as 350 persons, many of them young people, gathered in Oakland's Lakeside Park for a noon rally, followed by a march downtown and an evening candlelight ceremony back at the park.

By the time they dispersed early last night, their numbers had dwindled to around 200, according to police estimates.

There were no incidents and no arrests during the rallies, the march past City Hall and the induction center and downtown leaflet-passing.

Turnouts generally were smaller than anticipated throughout the Bay Area, although between 2,500 and 5,000 residents and students took part in one of the peninsula's largest marches at the Stanford Industrial Park.

Although an estimated 70 per cent of Stanford University's students did not attend classes, only about 1,000 took part in leaflet passing activities in nearby towns, a much lower figure than had been expected.

And about 1,000 persons took part in a march from the University of California's Sproul Plaza in Berkeley to Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps headquarters. There was some debate about trying to force an entrance to the building, but moderates prevailed.

Perhaps the largest East Bay crowd — about 1,200 persons in Hayward — overflowed a teach-in at the Chabot College auditorium, which was followed by a march to the Southland Shopping Center.

In San Francisco, the cast of 'Hair' cancelled last night's performance in a demonstration of solidarity with the moratorium.

About 500 marchers left a moratorium observance at the Century 21 Theater in Pleasant Hill, sponsored by Diablo Valley College students, to march to the college after a speech by Forney H. (Pete) Stark, a Walnut Creek banker.

In San Francisco's financial district, a crowd of some 3,000 persons heard a bugler sound "Taps" and listened to speeches outside the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange. Last night, they held a candlelight vigil in the city's civic center.

A small group of protesters outside the Capitol Building in Sacramento was interrupted by an even smaller group of counter-protesters led by Tom Strotman, information officer for the state Veterans' Affairs Department.

The confrontation was peaceful.

Tens of thousands of marchers from all over the state and the west are expected today in San Francisco. Moratorium backers say they expect 40,000 persons from Los Angeles alone, and that they have enlisted 1,000 march monitors.

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto and his aides discussed chances of opening public buildings to house the out-of-town marchers after organizers estimated as many as 5,000 persons might not be able to find accommodations.

But the city officials concluded that legal restrictions and insurance provisions would preclude the use of civic buildings.

At Grace Cathedral, the scene of an interruption led by an Episcopal seminary student from Berkeley, a change in plans for the final day of the National Association of Episcopal Schools convention was announced late yesterday.

Demonstrators Thursday interrupted a sermon by the Right Rev. John E. Hines, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church in America, to demand the convention be curtailed to allow participation in today's moratorium.

The Right Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California, yesterday announced that today's conclusion of the convention would be replaced with a special 5:15 p.m. communitywide Mass for peace at which both Bishop Hines and Bishop Myers would speak.

Meanwhile, young people from Berkeley's Free Church, who had participated in the Thursday incident, announced plans for a "free celebration of revolution and peace" at Grace Cathedral at 8 a.m. today, after which they will join the moratorium marchers.

In Napa, the father of a GI killed in Vietnam sent a tele-

Lyle W. Vesey, father of Marine Sgt. Charles H. Vesey, 23, who was killed April 21 during his second voluntary tour of duty in Vietnam, asked the President to instruct the attorney general to obtain injunctions preventing use of names without permission of the families.

In Sacramento, Gov. Ronald Reagan said there was "evidence" published in national magazines that the Oct. 15 moratorium "was planned back in June in a meeting with North Vietnamese leaders."

Stock Market Rally

Bay Area Peace Activities Today

By Tim Findley

Leaders of today's Vietnam moratorium predict "conservatively" that 20,000 office-chair critics of the war will find their feet today for an all day rally in front of the Pacific Stock Exchange at Pine and Sansome streets.

The 9 a.m.-to-7 p.m. financial district protest is the main event of an enormously diverse schedule of Moratorium activities designed to "legitimize street activity" for uncounted thousands of quietly disillusioned and dissenting Americans.

Most of them also will be urged to participate in the activist-organized mammoth New Mobilization march to the Polo Field here tomorrow.

But today, the emphasis will be on neighbor-to-neighbor contact — organized, for the most part, by virtual newcomers to the politics of dissent.

SLOWDOWN

In San Francisco, the three-week-old Downtown Peace Coalition, headed by 28-year-old Harvard Law School graduate Bob Ashford, is hoping for an almost unprecedented slowdown in downtown business in the name of peace.

The stock exchange rally is expected to hit its peak at the noon hour, with Stanley Orme, a British Labor party member of parliament, scheduled to speak at that time.

At 11 a.m. and at 3 p.m., "Taps" will be sounded by buglers at Bush and Sutter streets, Kearney and California streets and Sansome and Pine to call workers out of their offices for 15-minute silent vigils on the sidewalk.

'REQUIEM'

Spokesmen for the rally said that the group hopes to encourage people to remain in the area for a 7 p.m. candlelight march and vigil at Civic Center Plaza led by Clergy and Laymen for Peace. The "Vietnam Requiem" vigil is scheduled to last until 10 p.m.

Throughout the day yesterday, coalition workers fanned out through the financial district to pass out black cloth armbands and urge workers to avoid spending any money today as part of the protest and to donate any money they earn today to peace groups.

In Oakland, the East Bay Moratorium Committee will lead a noon rally beginning at the 14th street and Lakeside drive shores of Lake Merritt. Six speakers, headed by Oakland Security National Bank President Peter Stark, are scheduled.

FESTIVAL

Berkeley's day of Moratorium activities is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. with a Festival of Peace at Trinity Methodist Church, Dana street and Bancroft way.

Perhaps the largest Bay Area Moratorium activity outside of San Francisco is planned in Palo Alto, where several sponsoring groups are expecting some 5000 to participate in a noon rally and march in the Stanford Industrial Park.

A rock concert and "be-in" is scheduled at 8 p.m. in Lytton Plaza in downtown Palo Alto, to be followed by a candlelight procession to the First Presbyterian Church, Cowper and Kingsley.

Peninsula high school students are organizing a rally at 1:30 p.m. in San Bruno at San Bruno Park.

In Marin county, the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom plans a 10 a.m. to noon Vigil Against Death at the tunnel entrance to Fort Cronkite.

The Fremont-Newark area has scheduled a series of events entitled "A Time to Think," beginning with a free food booth at Ohlone College at 10 a.m., followed by a noon ecumenical vigil at the Carriage House in Williams Historical Park near the Fremont Hub shopping center.

Although its planners say their march is not formally linked with the Vietnam Moratorium, organizers of a noon parade through Santa Rosa's downtown district today boast the inclusion of "the world's record picket sign," more than 100 feet long.

RE: OHIO VALLEY REGIONAL COALITION CONFERENCE, PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA,
AUGUST 15-16, 1970

On August 18, 1970, a first confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised as follows:

An Ohio Valley Regional Coalition Conference (OVRCC) sponsored by the Peace and Freedom Center (PFC) was held on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, commencing at 8:00 PM, August 14, 1970, and terminating at 3:00 PM, August 16, 1970.

The PFC is characterized in the Appendix attached hereto.

The OVRCC, which was attended by about eighty individuals, was an outgrowth of the Emergency Strategy Action Conference held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, June 25-26, 1970, and sponsored by the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (NMC).

The NMC is described as a national steering organization which specializes in the formation of local and national anti-war protest and demonstration activities through a coalition of local anti-Vietnam war and draft groups throughout the nation.

OVRCC was known at the Strategy Action Conference as the Midwest Regional Conference, and currently includes Names of participants in the conference were posted on the wall in the lobby of the hall showing which workshop each person was to attend.

The general session started with Robert H. Nienkerk (phonetic), who identified himself as being an investigator who had gone with a group of other people to Paris for talks with the North Vietnamese. He identified Fortney Stark, Jr., Bank President in Oakland, California, as the person who accompanied the group to Paris and was a strong supporter.

Workshops started about 12 noon in various rooms in Langley Hall. One of the workshops was composed of the following individuals:

Dick Bachman, Cincinnati, Ohio
Ruth Dodd, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
Barbara Reusch, Cleveland, Ohio
Haley Carter, Dayton, Ohio (Rice State University)
Art Edelman, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

PETER STARK

The June 24, 1970, issue of the "Minneapolis Tribune," a newspaper of general circulation published in Minneapolis, Minnesota, contained information that about thirty individuals from Minnesota would leave Minneapolis, June 24, 1970, to meet in Paris, France, with representatives of the Provisional Revolutionary Government of South Vietnam (PRG). Formation of the PRG was announced in June, 1969, by the National Liberation Front of the Viet Cong. This group called itself "The People's Commission of Inquiry Into the Solution to the War in Vietnam." This group planned to spend two days in Paris and then return to the Twin Cities, Minnesota, area on July 1, 1970.

The article went on to state that this group was going as a peace mission to try to bring about a swift and enduring peace in Southeast Asia.

Included in this group was Peter Stark, described as a banker, no address given.

PETER STARK

The August 7, 1970, issue of the "Minnesota Daily," official student publication of the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota, contains an article captioned "Group says America's stand main obstacle at Paris talks." The article goes on to state that the People's Commission of Inquiry Into the Solution of the War in Vietnam presented its findings to an audience in the Coffman Union of the University of Minnesota on August 4, 1970.

The article states that a group of approximately thirty individuals went to Paris, France, with a two-fold goal of discussing "why the official negotiations have so far been fruitless and on what basis a peaceful negotiated settlement to the Vietnam war is possible." The article states that the group spent three days in Paris and met the delegations of both the Provisional Revolutionary Government of South Vietnam and of the Democratic Republic of South Vietnam.

With slides and tape recordings the group presented answers of the Vietnamese to questions concerning American withdrawal, the political settlement, the possibilities of a post-war bloodbath, the persecution of minorities and the effects of American presence in Vietnam.

The group claimed that the American refusal to agree to total withdrawal from Viet Nam is the major stumbling block preventing the peace settlement compatible with the interests and high ideals of the American people. In this article, University of Minnesota sophomore student Mary Hoidal said that the idea for the group's mission to Paris, France, came from the head of a University of Minnesota instructor while this instructor worked with Community Action Groups during the spring student-faculty strike.

The June 30, 1970, issue of the "Minneapolis Tribune" contained an article captioned "Citizen Group Completes Hunt for War Facts," datelined Paris, France. The article stated that a group of thirty ordinary American citizens who favor an end to the Vietnam War through total and rapid American military withdrawal completed a three-day fact-finding mission in Paris with almost all their facts gathered from the Communist side.

PETER STARK

The group, most of whose members came from Minnesota, spent hours in exhaustive questioning of the North Vietnamese and the Southern Communist (Viet Cong) delegations at the peace conference. The article went on to say that although a preliminary statement said that a primary purpose of the trip was to discover why the peace negotiations were thus far fruitless, the group apparently had no plans to consult with the U. S. delegation before it left Paris.

A meeting with the Chief American delegate, Philip Habib, finally was arranged by an outside observer but it took place after the group held a news conference. The article went on to state that the group had concluded that there was a solution that was compatible with the interests and high ideals of the American people. A group spokesman said the Vietnamese were ready to negotiate the conditions of safety under which the U. S. would effect withdrawal of its and allied foreign forces from South Vietnam within a six-month period.

The group members recorded on tape the answers given to their questions and its spokesmen were reluctant to go into detail for they had put on paper the exact wording of what the North Vietnamese and their allies said. The group announced its intention of asking for an appointment with President Nixon to apprise him of its findings.

The group contended that while the American position was well known in the U. S., almost nothing was known of the attitudes or organization of the other side.

A spokesman of the group declared that the provisional revolutionary government representing the Southern Communist National Liberation Front was the only one to have presented a peace plan at the conference.

PETER STARK

Reference was made to the ten-point program introduced in May of last year, with the backing of North Vietnam, which called essentially for U. S. withdrawal and its abandonment of the Saigon regime in favor of a coalition that would hold elections. The article went on to state that a reporter said that the Saigon Government had also introduced a peace plan which calls for elections under the supervision of an electoral commission in which the Liberation Front would participate.

The article said that the idea for the mission to Paris began among students at the University of Minnesota who struck after American entry into Cambodia. More than $18,000 was raised from private sources, including farmers, a banker, a labor union official, a dentist, a doctor, and a $5,000 loan from a Minneapolis bank.

The article ended with a comment that although the group brought their own sandwiches, the Americans were given lunch and dinner by the delegation at its suburban headquarters in Paris.

A check of Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota, city and telephone directories disclosed no information concerning Peter Stark.

On March 10, 1971, MP T-1, who has not furnished sufficient information to determine his reliability but who is in a position to furnish the following information, made available a pamphlet entitled, "The Peaceful Solution - of the War in Vietnam." Among individuals listed in this pamphlet was Peter Stark, banker at Danville, California.

A source advised on September 1, 1970, that Fortney Stark, Jr., a bank president in Oakland, was a member of this group travelling to Paris and was a strong supporter.

An article in the November 15, 1969, issue of the "Oakland Tribune", a newspaper of general circulation published in Oakland, California, noted numerous Bay Area demonstrations for peace held November 14, 1969. One such included:

"About 500 marchers left a moratorium observance at the Century 21 Theater in Pleasant Hill sponsored by Diablo Valley College students, to march to the college after a speech by Fortney H. (Pete) Stark, a Walnut Creek banker."

The November 15, 1968, issue of the "Daily Californian", a campus publication of the University of California at Berkeley, California, stated in part as follows:

A Pro-Vietnam Moratorium was read for Banker Fortney H. "Pete" Stark, Contra Costa banker and unsuccessful candidate for the state senate last year. In his statement Stark said, "The Nixon administration has tried to lump those who protest the war in a single mold and cast them as

PATU NEWS

FEBRUARY 1972.

LEGAL AID FOR TENANTS

Legal aid in landlord-tenant problems is now offered by a new FATU group, the "Tenants' Help" Committee. Its members, with the occasional help of sympathetic community lawyers, are prepared to help you recover withheld security deposits, effect necessary repairs, avoid or forestall evictions and assist with any other tenant difficulty. This service is available to FATU members and non-members alike. Currently, we rely on an answering service to collect messages. But this is costly; and we can no longer afford it. In its place, we want to initiate regular PATU office hours each day with a volunteer on hand to answer the phone and to route legal inquiries to committee members. With many volunteers we can minimize the work load. Please call us if you can spare an hour or two per week (or every other wee). Also if you are interested in working on the Tenant's Help Committee or attending tenants' law classes, call John Roger at 328-7418 or Roy Bolton at 321-7068.

Tenants' Help - Case History #1 - Repairs

PATU received a call from a family in South Palo Alto whose toilet leaked. Though the landlord had been contacted many times, the latter had stalled and delayed making the repairs for many weeks. After talking with us, the family wrote the landlord advising him that they had been in touch with the Tenants' Union and that they intended to use Section 1942 of the State Civil Code (which states one month's rent can be withheld to make needed repairs) as was within their rights. Within a few days, the toilet was repaired.

This sort of problem is faced by many tenants. Few know that their legal rights put a solution often within easy reach.

SQUARE DANCERS- GRAB YOUR PARTNER!

PATU DINNER AND SQUARE DANCE - being planned for mid-March- Let's come together for a meal and good time. Time and place will be announced through the phone tree and leaflets. If you would like to help with the particulars-salad, etc. call FATU and leave your name and number- We'll charge a small fee to cover food expenses and hope to raise a little more for FATU Food Conspiracy and PATU Fund-for a mimeo machine-

SAVE A WEEKEND IN MID-MARCH TO ATTEND THE PATU DINNER AND DANCE

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO FATU NEWS COST $2. SEND NAME AND ADDRESS TO PATU, 611 WEBSTER ST., PALO ALTO, CA. Articles accepted -announcements, etc.-printed monthly- labor and time donated-

SANCTUARY

At 9 A.M. Friday, January 21st, two men - one a Navy investigator, one a Federal marshall - entered the chapel of St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church in Palo Alto and apprehended Richard Larson. Over fifty community supporters witnessed the apprehension of Larson, a crewman for the carrier Midway, who was in sanctuary in the church. The struggle that led Ric Larson to take this public stand is the struggle of one man's conscience over his complicity in the Viet Nam war.

Richard Larson; a native of Detroit, Michigan, joined the Navy to "see the world." He did not bargain for seeing twenty-four hour bombing raids of Viet Nam. While the President said the war was winding down, the Midway and other ships were sending planes over North and South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia. Ric spent nights on the ship dwelling on the terrible destruction and killing. He thought of the preciousness of human life - of the pointless waste of life in wars. When the Midway returned to Oakland for repairs in preparation for going back to Viet Nam. Ric, knowing he could not continue the war, sought sanctuary.

Over thirteen churches in the San Francisco region form the Bay Area Sanctuary Caucus for any military person whose conscience will not permit him to participate in military action. Three churches in Palo Alto offered sanctuary to Ric - one Catholic, one Presbyterian, one Quaker. But sanctuary is not the act of refuge in a particular building; it is a community of people. This community provided Ric with food, shelter, counselling, and, above all, friendship. They supported his decision to defy the Government's right to force him to bear arms. They provided him with a public platform from which he could, with witnesses, voice his conscience to other servicemen, leaders of the military and the people of this nation.

Ric knew the Navy would probably apprehend him. He said, "But this is the chance I must take, because it is the strongest way I know to express what I believe." The Navy acted as expected. Ric is currently in the brig for thirty days. He also was reduced in rank and fined $190.

Communities of sympathizers wait in cities other than Palo Alto to bear witness to these struggles of conscience. They wait, not to encourage men to desert their ships, but to provide physical and moral support in times of crisis. They encourage the belief that a man who has served the Armed Forces honorably in the past, coming to a decision that war is wrong, deserves to receive an honorable discharge. In a letter to Ric, the sanctuary churches of Palo Alto said, "We ourselves were given strength by seeing that you refused to back down even an inch from the strong stand you had taken against war...As long as you are in prison, so are we all."

INTERNATIONAL DINNER

The Palo Alto Peace Union is having its Second Annual International Dinner on March 9th. Highlight of the evening will be a panel discussion on various dimensions of peace activism and militancy vs. non-militancy. Among the panelists are:

Miriam Cherry - Inter-communal Survival Committee

Fortney Stark - Security National Bank

Dave Josephson - Columbae House, Stanford

Kwan Ping Ho - Third World Liberation Front

The dinner itself is a buffet featuring the dishes of many countries prepared by Peace Union members. It will start at 7:30 P.M. and will be held at the First Presbyterian Church.

** CHILD CARE NOW! ****

February 21, CHILD CARE NOW goes before the Palo Alto City Council to obtain a use permit to open an Infant Care Center at the First Presbyterian Church in downtown Palo Alto. January 26, the Planning Commission voted 5 to 1 in favor of granting the permit. At that hearing, the University Park Association, a group of wealthy residents from the neighborhood south of the church, (formed specifically to fight the Infant Care Center) urged the city to deny us the use of the church for an Infants' Center. They argued that such a center would threaten their wealthy neighborhood; that Venceremos cadre were members of CHILD CARE NOW and that CHILD CARE NOW had opened the Sojourner Truth Children's Center which included in its educational program for pre-schoolers, 'political education.'

CHILD CARE NOW is dedicated to opening as many childrens' centers as the Palo Alto community - workers and residents - needs. All of our centers will be for low-income and working people, and will therefore, be low-cost. The parents and teachers of each center will fully control that center.

From the experience of our first center-the Sojourner Truth Children's Center (located in the Old Mayfield School being threatened by the proposed Palo Alto Plaza-office towers) we've learned that the need for low-cost, parent-controlled child care is great. Within 2 months we've almost reached full enrollment - and the parents dig a parent-controlled center. We've also learned that the people who see this need can get together to struggle to organize and open more centers--controlled by the people. Membership in CHILD CARE NOW is open to all. SHOW YOUR SUPPORT. COME, BRING FRIENDS TO:

PATU FOOD CONSPIRACY NOTES ***MEETING-WED. FEB. 23, 7:30p.m. 509 HALE ST., P.A.***

New people are joining the PATU Food Conspiracy every week-giving us more buying power at the produce terminal but also causing us to have some growing pains. Therefore, everyone's help and cooperation is really a must. PLEASE REMEMBER each member should plan to work once every 4-6 weeks. Sign-up sheets are posted at the drop-off centers and at the Addison School on Saturdays. The various jobs are: TABULATORS: 2 people to tabulate all the orders-Thursday- PRODUCE BUYERS: 4-5 people to purchase produce from Golden Gate Produce Terminal in South San Francisco-Friday mornings-6:30-10. We especially need people who own vans or trucks-or can lend them. EGG BUYERS: 1-2 people to buy eggs on Friday or early Sat. morn..it's helpful to have food stamp authorization. BREAD BUYERS: 1-2 people to buy Sat. morn-9:30 a.m. BOXERS: 6 people to weigh and box produce on Sat. morn.-9-12 noon. DISTRIBUTORS: 2 people to help people total up their orders, give refunds, collect owed money-sign up people-11:30-1:30. A car is needed to return extra boxes and food to 636 Webster. OK-PLEASE pick up your order between 12 and 1p.m. sharp. It isn't fair to the distributors who must wait for you. We need a garage to store produce on Fridays and distribute from on Sat. Call us if you have one we could use. We have been given a large refrigerator from Ecology Action. Much thanks.

We're looking into buying oranges from Farm-Co Association, a group of people trying to provide a direct link between farmers and consumers.

Beginning in a few weeks we will also have a dry goods conspiracy which will take/deliver orders once a month. We'll start with rice, beans and a few other things..suggestions and help wanted.

***TRY TO COME TO THE PATU FOOD CONSPIRACY MEETING***Feb.23, 7:30, 509 Hale St. We'll discuss ways of making things run smoothly and choose new coordinators- For more info call Bill Ellsworth 328-4869 or Diana Chambers 493-1684

REHABILITATE STANFORD

As everyone by now knows, Bruce Franklin, Central Committee member of Venceremos, was fired by the Stanford Board of Trustees on Jan.22. Two members of the Board dissented in the decision to off Bruce who has been a tenured professor since 1967. The case has been a bitter struggle between the rights of private property verses the First Amendment right of the people. A Faculty Advisory Board, made up of seven full professors, voted 5 to 2 in favor of the rights of private property.

The firing has however sparked a movement on the Stanford campus called the Stanford Rehabilitation Movement(the Advisory Board had sadly noted that Franklin could never be "rehabilitated") which aims to "Rehire Bruce" and get "Stanford out of the War". A number of sit-ins, mill-ins, classroom disruptions and confrontations with the police have occurred thus far. The movement appears to be gaining steam as more and more students find that they are completely disenfranchised by Stanford's administration.

A number of people from the surrounding communities have been active in the Rehabilitation Movement, including members of PATU. The old fear of "outside agitators" seems to have died as more and more people on the campus have come to understand that Stanford's decisions directly effect the lives of people who live in Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Redwood City, Mt.View, East Palo Alto and Sunnyvale. Community participation in the SRM has flowed out of people's understanding that Bruce Franklin has fought against Stanford's continual oppression of the surrounding population.

To find out what's going on at Stanford listen to KZSU, which has been providing good coverage of practically every action and mass meeting, or read the Stanford Daily or Pamoja Venceremos.

ECOLOGY ACTION OPENS ORGANIC GARDEN STORE

"Common Ground", a garden store and environmental educational center opened Feb. 3. Located at 2225 El Camino Real, it stocks all supplies needed for organic gardening. The education center, opening April 24, will provide visitors with information on environmentally wise living habits, and serve as a center for workshops and classes concerning various ecological topics. MOVE TO BAN FURTHER WAR INDUSTRY FROM PALO ALTO

Palo Alto anti-war forces recently won a significant victory. After much community pressure, the Palo Alto City Council directed the City Attorney to prepare a report concerning the legal possibilities of restricting and controlling industry in Palo Alto "with regard to the tangible and intangible effects on the community." War-related industry was specifically to be included in the study.

The issue was first raised by Palo Alto Venceremos at the Jan. 11 Council meeting, under oral communications. Venceremos member Jim Shoch argued that "The economic landscape of the Midpeninsula is dominated by Stanford University and the interests of the men who run it--the Stanford Trustees. Noting that over 10% of all the Defense Department's research and development contracts are performed in the area between San Francisco and San Jose and that over $140 million in prime contracts was awarded by the DoD to Palo Alto firms in 1971, Jim concluded that "we don't feel the City of Palo Alto should continue to cooperate with the Stanford Trustees' schemes to further develop the city into a hub of U.S. imperialism.

Venceremos proposed the following resolution: "The City Council of Palo Alto moves to instruct the city attorney to prepare a report regarding the possibilities of drafting city ordinances and/or employing city zoning laws to prohibit any corporation which receives funding from the United States Department of Defense from establishing new operations and/or facilities in Palo Alto.

Councilwoman Enid Pearson moved to make the issue a formal agenda item at the Jan. 17 meeting. And at this meeting, three hundred community members turned out to support Mrs. Pearson's proposal, even broader than the original. Several local businessmen, including realtor Scott Carey of Superblock fame, denounced the idea of controlling industry as an outright attack on "freedom and free enterprise." He suggested that the Council "get back to business." But when the dust had finally settled, the resolution passed--a vote of 5 to 4.

The study will be completed in 4-6 months, so our work is cut out for us. It's clear to us that several of the liberals on the Council who voted for the resolution have no real intention of restricting war-related industry in Palo Alto. If we hope to see meaningful steps taken toward disengaging Palo Alto from the American War Machine, we'll have to build a strong movement now.

PATU CREDIT UNION

Many people have expressed interest in the past few months in establishing a people's bank or other such economic venture. The purpose of such a venture would be to provide an alternative to the banking/financial institutions in this area. The most feasible possibility seems to be the creation of a community credit union. The credit union would operate much the same as normal credit unions but in a large sense would be a quasi-money co-op serving the people of the community. Members of the credit union would be able to save and to take out loans and savings would be insured up to $20,000.

Instead of putting your money into banks like Bank of America and Wells Fargo, where your money helps no one but the corporation, your money in the credit union is loaned only to its own members. The idea is to build up the economic vitality and self-sufficiency of the community. Loans must be approved by a credit committee selected by the credit union members. The money can be used for anything from buying a truck to helping a medical collective get started. The money is loaned at moderate interest rates which are kept low because of the small amount of overhead.

The potential of a successful credit union is immense. People can begin to use their money creatively as well as having control over their money and how it is used. A community credit union can offer people a very definite, stable and legitimate alternative to the banking and financial institutions.

Larry Tramutt (327-3845) has been collecting materials on credit unions and has been coordinating efforts to get a credit union established for the Tenant Union community. If you 1) are interested either in helping get one started, 2) have some knowledge of them, 3) are tacitly interested and could spare a word of encouragement, or 4) feel you might be interested in the future please call Larry and tell him what you think.

Bank Sale Talks Announced

Fortney H. (Pete) Stark, president of Security National Bank and a Democratic nominee for Congress, has announced that he is negotiating with an investment group for the sale of his controlling interest in the bank.

Stark, 49, who founded the bank in 1963 in Walnut Creek, said he is disclosing the talks to clear up rumors about the bank's future that have begun circulating in the investment community.

He said the outcome of the negotiations, still in a preliminary stage, would be announced within the next few weeks.

The price under discussion is in the range of $27 to $31 per share. Stark said any agreement would be conditioned on the same price being offered to all bank shareholders.

Stark is Democratic congressional nominee in the 8th District which includes parts of Alameda and Contra Costa County. Security National Bank, with resources totaling about $100 million, has offices in Oakland, Walnut Creek, Rossmoor, Concord and Antioch.

There is an expression in Spanish "Tratar de ensillar un gallinazo." In English it means "To try to saddle a turkey-buzzard." It comes to mind when one refers to an attempt to interview Carmen Arcaya Garrett.

This self-styled champion of the down-trodden may be found at Congresswoman Pete Stark's office in the Livermore Airport.

She has a Utopian dream of justice and in her position as Congressional Aide comes in contact with the heartbreak of the poor, the unemployed, the illegal immigrant. She admits that it is difficult for her to be objective and she often takes as her own the problems that her cases represent.

Carmen has been a resident of Livermore for six years. In that time she has become acquainted with a great percentage of the low-income and minority families.

She is Chilean by birth and an American citizen by adoption. No exception to the rule, she is a "prophet outside of her own land." She feels deeply the state of affairs in the South American nation and speaks of the Sept. 11, 1973 revolution as "A revolution that destroyed what Chileans had earned with their blood shed for 40 years. I get physically ill when I think of what is happening there today."

"You know," she said, "Allende's death was initially reported as a suicide. But who commits suicide by shooting 12 bullets in his own head?"

Carmen's feelings can't be disguised. Words like "reactionary, fascist, discrimination, oppression" are common in her speech. She realizes these are words she could not utter were she living in Chile today, but is free to express in the United States. Yet she still continues to refer to ericans as "gringos."

Now she is involved with the Needs Assessment Committee for the Spanish-speaking in Livermore.

"I feel that finally there is hope for the Spanish-speaking in the schools. That is why I am involved. I believe the new school district administration is trying to make amends," she said.

Carmen is married to an Anglo and her three children attend school in Livermore.

"I believe that my children were cheated in that the schools did not expose them to other cultures. I hope the new administration can work this out," she went on.

She believes that exposure to various cultures broadens the mind of the individual. Gives him a better understanding of people.

"By bringing a variety of colors into the teaching staff, the children's image of certain groups would change. Right now they see the chicanos, the blacks, doing the menial jobs. They are the 'barrenderos' (floor sweepers). The students form a low concept of the minorities."

"They have to know that these minorities are human beings and equally deserving of respect. But the school administration's concept of what minorities are good for is just the low menial jobs, the school transmits this same belief to the youth."

Perhaps because of her background, Carmen seems to be more aware and sensitive about the situation.

"Many people say, 'some of my best friends are black' or whatever the case may be. But they are really adding, 'everyone should own one.'"

Her quest is Quixotic her days and nights are often frustrating

Carmen Arcaya Garrett has a Utopian dream of justice . . . she admits it is hard to be objective in her job with low-income and minority families. Even before it became fashionable she was for human rights and she is outspoken in her concern for the people.

'There is no active discrimination in Livermore . . . and the passive discrimination is very latent. More affirmative action is needed.'

An advocate of "Affirmative Action" and a member of ACCORD's steering committee, she becomes quite verbal when pressed for an explanation of her concept of "Affirmative Action."

"There is no active discrimination in Livermore, and the passive discrimination is very latent. More affirmative action is needed from the agencies which employ people in the valley. They could adjust their policies to provide jobs for members of the minorities. They should go out of their way to seek them and to give them a chance to prove their worth."

That is Carmen. The case worker who at the beginning of the interview did her best to turn the tables on the reporter by asking many questions, became further along in the same interview, outspoken and unwavering in her convictions. She finds it difficult to recognize any other opinion. Her days and nights are filled with a struggle that turns into frustration and she, in turn, often becomes Quixotic in her quest.

Inflamed by the idea of discussing discrimination, Carmen continued, "Many people don't even know that they are bigoted. They don't know what 'bigot' is. But they are. It is ingrained in them. That's what the cultural upbringing in the schools has done for them."

How about those Carmen was asked the question: who refuse to come out and take action in their own behalf? Those who want to hang on to other people's shirttails and sponge in the name of equality and justice?

"That is reactionary thinking," she accused.

Softening, she added, b "the individual has to be part of the community and many people still have to learn to take action in their own behalf. That is why they need leaders to make them realize that they are important. We have to o out and get them. The poor and the disadvantaged have to be pushed and need to be shown their own worth as human beings. This takes time. They have to learn to develop their own potential. Until then... we have to do it."

"I've always been for human rights. Even before it became fashionable. That is why I have this feeling for the people," Carmen reflected.

Through the duration of the interview Carmen was besieged with phone calls dealing with job offers and various other matters. Her specialty is immigration problems.

"Every case is different," she said. "We try to help people and try to see that they comply with the laws. But sometimes, the problem turns out to be more than just immigration. It becomes complex by unemployment, lack of housing, family emergencies, you name it."

She is also concerned with the health of the low-income group and is educational representative for the erican Cancer Society. Her special interest is the euceducation of Spanish-speaking women in the valley to make them aware of the need for checkups and other preventive measures against

Carmen continued, "When considering several candidates for a job, the employer should give preference to the one who has the most cards stacked against him, because that might be the only chance that candidate might get."

Carmen believes this should carry through even when comparing the experience and educational level of the candidates. "So what if the person doesn't have the education. If he is in the minority, he should have preference," she added.

She has been in that position herself. Carmen explained that for three years she tried to become a ulltime teacher in the Livermore Unified School District. "b the personnel director was reluctant to give me the position. His idea of education for minorities was very narrow minded I was being put off everytime I approached the subject. This attitude, I believe, is part of what has compounded the problems in the school district today. We were never really told we were not wanted. But we were strung along," Carmen criticized.

In her case, explained Carmen, it was not a lack of education, but a reluctancy to hire a member of the Spanish-speaking minority.

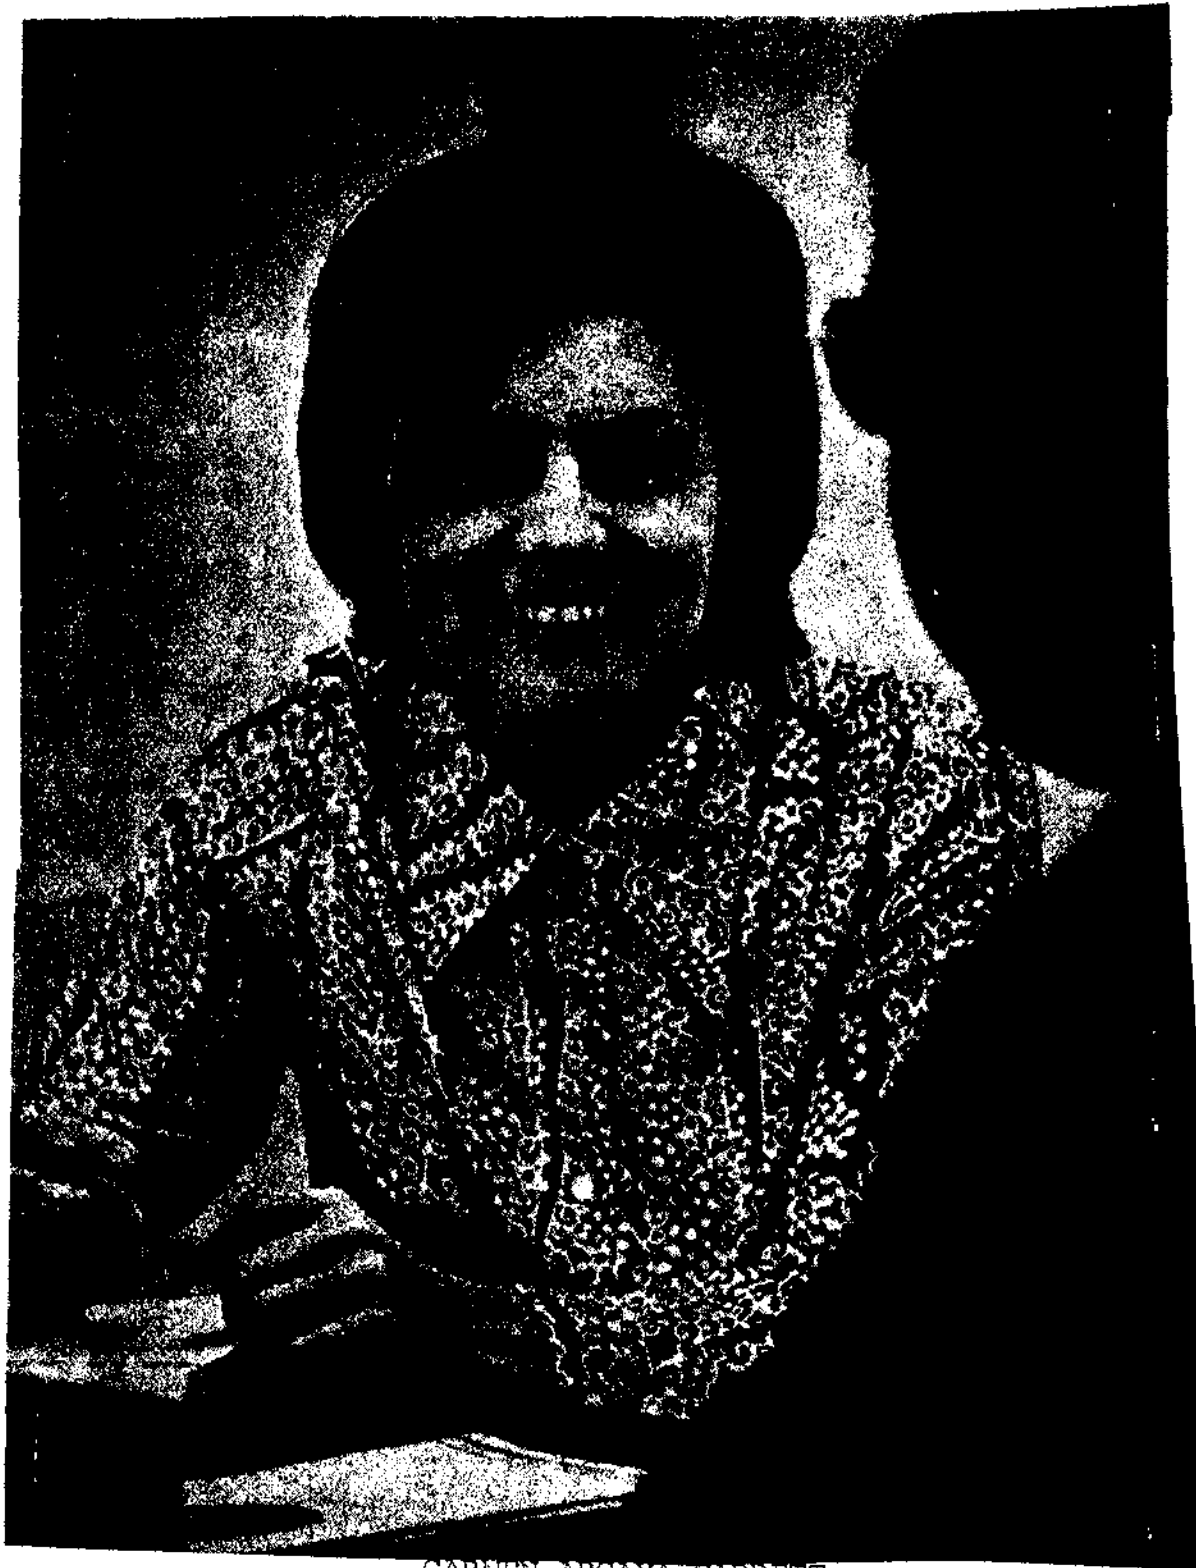

Carmen met Congressman Stark while she was teaching at the Athenian School in Danville. She has a degree in literature and philosophy from the University of Chile with a major in English.

She attended the University of London, England, and holds a bachelors degree in Education from the University in New York, and a master's degree in Compared Literature from Holy Names College.

She added that she taught elementary school in New York for three years (Foreign Language in Elementary Schools "FLES" program) and taught French and Spanish and a culture seminar at the Centenary College.

Carmen's work as a teacher also included two years of junior high school in San Lorenzo and three years teaching English as a Second Language in the adult education department in Livermore.

"I'm running out of time. I have to do things now or I won't get to do them at all," she insisted.

Dear [redacted]

Enclosed is a story we ran on [redacted] or [redacted]

Our conversation was dwelt on why we did not like the things for which Pete Stark, her boss, stood. But at the end of the discussion, she made the remark, "You seem to be a pretty good guy, so when the take over takes place, I will ask them to leave you alone." This might have been a jest, but on the other hand anybody who would make this, must have some idea in mind.

As I understand it, she was teaching Spanish in a private school in Diablo, or that area. [redacted] [redacted] That is how Pete Stark found out about her, that is the way the connection was made for her starting to work for him. She must have somewhat his ideology or he would not have employed her.

Cordially yours,
